

Programme overview

Client Advisory Boards

Misys Client Advisory Boards offer a great way to share your vision and views, from single-issue enhancements to long-term strategy, helping Misys steer strategic product investments.

Client Advisory Boards bring together key stakeholders to discuss and validate the top priorities for Misys product roadmaps and strategy.

Feedback from the Client Advisory Boards is an essential component of the Misys software planning process, contributing directly to ongoing development and product intentions.

Additionally, the Client Advisory Boards encourage peer-to-peer interaction and discussion. The meetings are designed to provide a forum to explore what is possible, perhaps touching on global financial regulation or new market opportunities.

The remit is to focus on longer-term strategic issues, which help to drive the roadmap for all solution areas and ensure that Misys:

- › Gains senior executive-level understanding of your pressing business needs
- › Commits proactive senior-level support to enable strategic execution
- › Moves the relationship forward towards a true business partnership.

The Client Advisory Boards encourage participation and contributions from financial institutions of every size, globally, to help ensure the widest possible worldview and the broadest possible perspective on future challenges.

Make your voice heard and steer product roadmaps

Where possible, meetings are held in person at customer or Misys locations, or as special sessions as part of other industry meetings.

The outcomes of the Client Advisory Boards, which can be for particular industry sectors, Misys solution areas or geographic regions, help Misys to direct investment towards the highest industry and customer priorities.
