Programme overview

User Groups

There are active User Groups for the Misys solution families and products in many regions, helping you to solve your practical, day-to-day issues with your peers and technical experts.

User Groups provide the ideal forums for sharing and addressing business challenges, sharing information and discussing market and product-related requirements with like-minded groups.

Most importantly, User Groups enable you to help Misys refine the product roadmap by jointly prioritising local and regional market needs, as well gaining an insight into product strategy.

There are User Groups organised by product, industry sector and geography, as well as sub-groups for specific technical developments and technology challenges.

User Groups are able to reach out to Misys collectively, providing a unique channel for dialogue and direction.

- ▶ Where User Groups are already well-established, Misys runs sessions to update the User Group attendees on topics relevant to the market and user base, and on the product and solution roadmap. At the same time, Misys is ready to respond to questions or areas of concern, and ensure that actions are followed up
- ▶ Where User Groups are not yet established and there is sufficient local interest, Misys can facilitate and help to establish the User Group meetings, which could be taken over by the users themselves over time.

The first step towards joining a Misys User Group is to attend existing User Groups in your region, and the Misys Connect team will be glad to put you in touch. If there is no current User Group and you are interested in participating or helping to set one up, contact Misys via your Account Manager.

To find out more about this and further Misys Connect programmes, speak with your account manager, or for a response within 24 business hours, e-mail misysconnect@misys.com.
